3910—Publications

Regulations established by the College President shall govern publication and distribution of official publications, signs, posters, handbills, books, magazines, newspapers, and recruitment materials.

Publications of a sectarian, partisan, or denominational character may be issued and distributed for sectarian, partisan, or denominational purposes provided that such activity is carried on in a manner which does not impede the orderly conduct of College classes and programs and shall be subject to rules and regulations of the Board of Trustees. No publication which advocates the commission of an unlawful act may be issued or distributed under this section.
